Art Unit: 1714

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-8, 10-13, 15-20 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Syed (US 6,046,273) in view of Burton (US 6,017,986).

Rejection is maintained for reason of record and following response.

Even though Syed teaches MMA/MAA grafting, the backbone polymer, polypropylene, is an olefin polymer and thus the use of oils taught by Burton in Syed is a prima facie obviousness. Radiation yields heat and thus radiation resistant component also yields heat resistant. Syed teaches a thermally stable composition as stated by applicant and thus one would use any additive such as oil which improves thermal stability

Applicant points table 4 for unexpected result of the iodine number, but said table is inconclusive since it does not show the iodine number below 10 such as 9. Figure 2 shows no change in MFR between a composition without fatty oil and with coconut oil (iodine number 10). A lower MFR means an easier process and thus degradation of polymer would be lower during melt processing. The examiner believes that the residual MMA is not the indication of the claimed thermal stability and applicant failed to show otherwise. Applicant's claim encompasses very broad range of iodine numbers such as 10 to several hundreds out of 0 to several hundreds, for example. Thus, a showing of a composition with fatty oil having an iodine number 9 is needed in order to show any unexpected result.

Claims 9, 21, 25 and 26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Konietzny et al (US 4,469,829) teach various polymers such as polystyrene (col. 4, lines 23-39) stabilized with unsaturated compound meeting the instant molecular weight and iodine number (table 1), but said unsaturated compound is a heterocyclic.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
